PROJECT SPECIALIST-INTERIORS: Lowes, Project Specialist for Interior projects. It's a new position for Lowes and there are only 300 stores nationwide that have someone like me working there. We now have our own General Contractor who will work with me and a great team of specialists on designing and building kitchen and bath renovation projects along with many other options. I meet with the clients in the store to review their project, help them pick out materials and finishes, design their layouts and then go to their home with the General Contractor to review the scope of work. We can take care of their projects from start to finish which is really great for weekend homeowners! Also, our GC has gone through an intense process of interviews, security checks, and clearances as well as all the people he has working for him.
